Purpose of the IHDA Income Calculator

The IHDA Income Calculator is a tool that simplifies the making of income eligibility determinations for beneficiaries of the Authority's Single Family Trust Fund Programs. Just enter the required data, and the Income Calculator will generate a summary of the beneficiary's household income and program eligibility.

Structure of the Income Calculator

The Income Calculator is composed of these four sections:

- Household Information: A listing of all household members and characteristics, Illinois County of residence, and the proposed AMI % Limit group.
- Household Members: Detailed individual income data as broken down by employment wages, assets, and other income.
- Adjusted Income: Applicable adjustments and deductions that may alter a beneficiary's annual income.
- Eligibility + Signatures: A final signature page that denotes if a beneficiary is in fact eligible based on their entered income information.

Policy Questions

The IHDA Income Calculator was built using the rules and regulations provided in Chapter 5 (Determining Income and Calculating Rent) of the HUD Occupancy Handbook, which incorporates the requirements of 24 CFR, Part 5, Section 8, Definition of Annual Income. Additional inputs include the HUD Passbook Rate, and the HUD Fiscal Year Income Limits.

These materials can be accessed by searching on the Department of Housing and Urban Development website.

- <https://www.hud.gov/>

Note: When changes are made to these sources, the Income Calculator is updated accordingly. Should an update be made to the Income Calculator during an active program round, Community Affairs staff will notify all program grantees of the change, and provide an updated version of the Calculator.

The Income Calculator can also be found on the IHDA website, specifically the Revitalization and Repair Programs page.

IHDA Disclaimer

The IHDA Income Calculator is a tool to help grantees calculate income eligibility based upon the amount of income and applicable adjustments/deductions entered by the grantee. The Calculator does not verify income. It only determines eligibility based on the data that has been entered.

The Calculator is not meant to replace supporting documentation or the grantee's own calculations, therefore, all results produced by this tool should be thoroughly reviewed.

Using the Income Calculator

The following subsections provide instruction on using the Income Calculator. Grantees should enter beneficiary data into the yellow boxes and drop down options within the Calculator. Always navigate through the Calculator in the same order as the sections are listed in this user guide. This ensures that necessary information will be entered, and that the corresponding selections will be made to produce an accurate eligibility result.

Household Information Tab

This first section is where grantees enter the primary inputs, which the Calculator uses to determine eligibility. These include the Beneficiary's Illinois County of residence, household size, individual member characteristics, and the proposed AMI % Limit. Without this information, (highlighted in red) the Calculator cannot provide an eligibility result. A completed example of this tab is shown below:

INSTRUCTIONS

Navigate through this form's tabs, completing all yellow answer boxes as applicable. Complete one tab (HH Member #) per income- or assistance-earning household member 18 years and older. Report all types of income and assistance earned. If you need to report income or assistance for more than 8 household members, contact IHDA's Community Affairs Department. After reporting income, complete the Adjusted Income tab, and review the household's income eligibility on the Eligibility + Signatures tab. After obtaining all necessary signatures, return this completed form and all accompanying documents to the corresponding Trust Fund Program at the Illinois Housing Development Authority.

If you have questions, please contact your Program Officer.

Household Member Tabs

Individual household member's financial information should be entered on one of the eight Household Member tabs. These tabs are divided into sections which ask for detailed financial information on the individual's employment wages, assets, and other income. Please provide as detailed a breakdown as possible for each section. If you need clarification about what to enter in a given cell, hover over it and an instructional pop-up box will appear. To help grantees, this feature has been incorporated on these tabs, and throughout the Calculator as a whole. Additionally, make sure to engage all the applicable drop down selections on these tabs, as they are necessary for the proper operation of the Calculator.

Note: The names previously entered in the Household Information Tab will carry over to one of these eight Household Member tabs. Enter the individual household member's financial data on their corresponding tab.

Whose Income is Counted?

Adults: These persons will be either the head, spouse, or co-head; they are sometimes referred to as emancipated minors. Count the annual income of the head, spouse, or co-head, and other adult members of the family.

Note: If an emancipated minor is residing with a family member other than head, spouse, or co-head, the individual would be considered a dependent and his or her income would not be counted toward household annual income.

Dependents: A dependent is a family member who is under 18 years of age, is disabled, or is a full-time student.

- Earned income of minors (family members under the age of 18) is not counted toward annual household income.
- Benefits or other unearned income of minors is counted.

Eligibility + Signatures Tab

After entering the beneficiary's information in the previous sections, grantees should review the Calculator results on this tab to confirm eligibility.

If the adjusted Household Annual Income is significantly lower than the Program Income Limit, try changing the AMI % Limit that was previously entered on the Household Information tab to a lower limit such as the 50 % or the 30%. It is best to pair a beneficiary's Annual Income as closely as possible to an applicable AMI % Limit.

If a beneficiary is in fact eligible based on the income information that was entered, the grantee should obtain all the necessary signatures, and return the completed Income Calculator along with all accompanying documents to the Trust Fund Program at IHDA.

- Remember, the completed Income Calculator must be dated within six months of the date it is submitted to IHDA as part of a pre-approval package.
- Additionally, enter the beneficiary's Base Income in Mitas exactly as it appears in the red highlighted section found below.

An allowance for depreciation of assets used in a business or profession may be deducted, based on straight line depreciation, as provided in Internal Revenue Service regulations. Any withdrawal of cash or assets from the operation of a business or profession will be included in income, except to the extent the withdrawal is reimbursement of cash or assets invested in the operation by the family;
- (3) Interest, dividends, and other net income of any kind from real or personal property. Expenditures for amortization of capital indebtedness shall not be used as deductions in determining net income. An allowance for depreciation is permitted only as authorized in paragraph (2) above. Any withdrawal of cash or assets from an investment will be included in income, except to the extent the withdrawal is reimbursement of cash or assets invested by the family. Where the family has net family assets in excess of $5,000, annual income shall include the greater of the actual income derived from all net family assets or a percentage of the value of such assets based on the current passbook savings rate, as determined by HUD;

- (6) Welfare Assistance.
 - (a) Welfare assistance received by the family.
 - (b) If the welfare assistance payment includes an amount specifically designated for shelter and utilities that is subject to adjustment by the welfare assistance agency in accordance with the actual cost of shelter and utilities, the amount of welfare assistance income to be included as income shall consist of:

- (c) The amount of the allowance or grant exclusive of the amount specifically designated for shelter or utilities; plus
- (d) The maximum amount that the welfare assistance agency could in fact allow the family for shelter and utilities. If the family's welfare assistance is ratably reduced from the standard of need by applying a percentage, the amount calculated under this paragraph shall be the amount resulting from one application of the percentage.
- (7) Periodic and determinable allowances, such as alimony and child support payments, and regular contributions or gifts received from organizations or from persons not residing in the dwelling; and

For purposes of this paragraph "financial assistance" does not include loan proceeds for the purpose of determining income.
(Note: This paragraph also does not apply to a student who is living with his/her parents who are applying for or receiving Section 8 assistance.)

 - (d) Amounts received under a resident service stipend. A resident service stipend is a modest amount (not to exceed $200 per month) received by a resident for performing a service for the owner, on a part-time basis, that enhances the quality of life in the project. Such services may include, but are not limited to, fire patrol, hall monitoring, lawn maintenance, and resident-initiative coordination. No resident may receive more than one such stipend during the same period of time; or
 - (e) Incremental earnings and benefits resulting to any family member from participation in qualifying state or local employment training programs (including training programs not affiliated with a local government) and training of a family member as a resident management staff person. Amounts excluded by this provision must be received under employment training programs with clearly defined goals and objectives, and are excluded only for the period during which the family member participates in the employment training program.

 - (15) Amounts paid by a state agency to a family with a member who has a developmental disability and is living at home to offset the cost of services and equipment needed to keep the developmentally disabled family member at home; or
 - (16) Amounts specifically excluded by any other federal statute from consideration as income for purposes of determining eligibility or benefits under a category of assistance programs that includes assistance under any program to which the exclusions set forth in 24 CFR 5.609(c) apply. A notice will be published in the Federal Register and distributed to housing owners identifying the benefits that qualify for this exclusion. Updates will be published and distributed when necessary.

The following is a list of income sources that qualify for that exclusion:

- (a) The value of the allotment provided to an eligible household under the Food Stamp Act of 1977 (7 U.S.C. 2017 [b]);

Exhibit 5-2: Assets

NOTE: There is no asset limitation for participation in HUD assisted-housing programs. However, the definition of annual income includes net income from family assets.

A. Net Family Assets include the following:

1. Cash held in savings and checking accounts, safe deposit boxes, homes, etc. For savings accounts, use the current balance. For checking accounts, use the average balance for the last six months. Assets held in foreign countries are considered assets.
2. Revocable trusts. Include the cash value of any revocable trust available to the family. See discussion of trusts in paragraph 5-7 G.1.
3. Equity in rental property or other capital investments. Include the current fair market value less (a) any unpaid balance on any loans secured by the property and (b) reasonable costs that would be incurred in selling the asset (e.g., penalties, broker fees, etc.).

NOTE: If the person's main business is real estate, then count any income as business income under paragraph 5-6 G of the chapter. Do not count it both as an asset and business income.

4. Stocks, bonds, Treasury bills, certificates of deposit, mutual funds, and money market accounts. Interest or dividends earned are counted as income from assets even when the earnings are reinvested. The value of stocks and other assets vary from one day to another. The value of the asset may go up or down the day before or after rent is calculated and multiple times during the year thereafter. The owner may assess the value of these assets at any time after the authorization for the release of information has been received. The tenant may request an interim recertification at any time thereafter that a decrease in stock value may result in a decrease in rent.
5. Individual retirement, 401K, and Keogh accounts. These are included when the holder has access to the funds, even though a penalty may be assessed. If the individual is making occasional withdrawals from the account, determine the amount of the asset by using the average balance for the previous six months. (Do not count withdrawals as income.)

Example – Withdrawals from a Keogh Account

Ly Pham has a Keogh account valued at $30,000. When she turns 70 years old, she begins drawing $2,000 a year. Continue to count the account as an asset. Use the guidance in paragraph 5-7 to determine the cash value and imputed income from the asset. Do not count the $2,000 she withdraws as income.

6. Retirement and pension funds.

- a. While the person is employed. Include only amounts the family can withdraw without retiring or terminating employment. Count the whole amount less any penalties or transaction costs. Follow paragraph 5-7 G.4 of the chapter on determining the value of assets.
- b. At retirement, termination of employment, or withdrawal. Periodic receipts from pension and retirement funds are counted as income. Lump-sum receipts from pension and retirement funds are counted as assets. Count the amount as an asset or as income, as provided below.
 - (1) If benefits will be received in a lump sum, include the lump-sum receipt in net family assets.
 - (2) If benefits will be received through periodic payments, include the benefits in annual income. Do not count any remaining amounts in the account as an asset.
 - (3) If the individual initially receives a lump-sum benefit followed by periodic payments, count the lump-sum benefit as an asset as provided in the example below and treat the periodic payment as income. In subsequent years, count only the periodic payment as income. Do not count the remaining amount as an asset.

NOTE: This paragraph and the example below assume that the lump-sum receipt is a one-time receipt and that it does not represent delayed periodic payments. However, in situations in which a lump-sum payment does represent delayed periodic payments, then the amount would be considered as income and not an asset.

Example – Retirement Benefits as Lump-Sum and Periodic Payments

Upon retirement, Eleanor Reilly received a lump-sum payment of $15,000. She will also receive periodic pension payments of $350 a month.

The lump-sum amount of $15,000 is generally treated as an asset. In this instance, however, Eleanor spent $5,000 of the lump sum on a trip following her retirement. The remaining $10,000 she placed in her mutual fund with other savings. The entire mutual fund will be counted as an asset.

The owner has verified that Eleanor is now not able to withdraw the balance from her pension. Therefore, the owner will count the $350 monthly pension payment as annual income and will not list the pension account as an asset.

7. Cash value of life insurance policies available to the individual before death (e.g., the surrender value of a whole life policy or a universal life policy). It would not include a value for term insurance, which has no cash value to the individual before death.
8. Personal property held as an investment. Include gems, jewelry, coin collections, or antique cars held as an investment. Personal jewelry is NOT considered an asset.
9. Lump-sum receipts or one-time receipts. (See paragraph 5-6 P for additional information on what is counted as a lump-sum receipt and how to treat lump-sum receipts.) These include inheritances, capital gains, one-time lottery winnings, victim's restitution, settlements on insurance claims (including health and accident insurance, worker's compensation, and personal or property losses), and any other amounts that are not intended as periodic payments.
10. A mortgage or deed of trust held by an applicant.
 - a. Payments on this type of asset are often received as one combined payment of principal and interest with the interest portion counted as income from the asset.
 - b. This combined figure needs to be separated into the principal and interest portions of the payment. (This can be done by referring to an amortization schedule that relates to the specific term and interest rate of the mortgage.)
 - c. To count the actual income for this asset, use the interest portion due, based on the amortization schedule, for the 12-month period following the certification.
 - d. To count the imputed income for this asset, determine the asset value as of the effective date of the certification. Since this amount will continually be reduced by the principal portion paid during the previous year, the owner will have to determine this amount at each annual recertification. See the following example:

Example – Deed of Trust and Imputed Income

Computation of imputed income:

An elderly tenant sells her home and holds the mortgage for the buyer. The cash value of the mortgage is $60,000. The combined payment of principal and interest expected to be received for the upcoming year is $5,000. The amortization schedule breaks that payment into $2,000 in principal and $3,000 in interest. In completing the asset income calculation, the cash value of the asset is $60,000, and the projected annual income from that asset is $3,000. The imputed income would be calculated by multiplying the cash value of $60,000 by the 2% imputed passbook rate. Each subsequent year, the cash value of the asset should be reduced by the principal portion paid. In this example, it would be reduced to $58,000 in the following year ($60,000 – $2,000 principal payment = $58,000). When calculating the imputed income for the following year, the owner would multiply the cash value of $58,000 by the 2% passbook savings rate.

Regulatory References

(These references are current as of the date of publication. Readers should refer to the latest edition of the Code of Federal Regulations.)

24 CFR part 5.603 defines net family assets as follows:

Net cash value after deducting reasonable costs that would be incurred in disposing of real property, savings, stocks, bonds, and other forms of capital investment, excluding interests in Indian trust land and the equity accounts in HUD homeownership programs. The value of necessary items of personal property such as furniture and automobiles shall be excluded. . . . In determining net family assets, owners shall include the value of any business or family assets disposed of by an applicant or tenant for less than fair market value (including a disposition in trust, but not in a foreclosure or bankruptcy sale) during the two years preceding the date of application for the program or recertification, as applicable, in excess of the consideration received therefor. In the case of a disposition as part of a separation or divorce settlement, the disposition will not be considered to be for less than fair market value if the applicant or tenant receives important consideration not measurable in dollar terms.

B. Net family assets DO NOT include the following:

IMPORTANT: The owner does not compute income from any assets in this paragraph.

1. Personal property (clothing, furniture, cars, wedding ring, other jewelry that is not held as an investment, vehicles specially equipped for persons with disabilities).
2. Interests in Indian trust land.
3. Term life insurance policies (i.e., where there is no cash value).
4. Equity in the cooperative unit in which the family lives.
5. Assets that are part of an active business. "Business" does NOT include rental of properties that are held as investments unless such properties are the applicant's or tenant's main occupation.

Example – Assets that are Part of an Active Business

- Laura and Lester Hines own a copier and courier service. None of the equipment that they use in their business is counted as an asset (e.g., the copiers, the FAX machines, the bicycles).
- Alice Washington rents out the home that she and her husband lived in for 42 years. This home is not an active business asset. Therefore, it is considered an asset and the owner must determine the annual income that Alice receives from it.

6. Assets that are NOT effectively owned by the applicant. Assets are not effectively owned when they are held in an individual's name, but (a) the assets and any income they earn accrue to the benefit of someone else who is not a member of the family, and (b) that other person is responsible for income taxes incurred on income generated by the assets.

NOTE: Nonrevocable trusts (i.e., irrevocable trusts) are not covered by this paragraph. See information on nonrevocable trusts in paragraph 5-7 G.1.

Example – Assets not Effectively
Owned by the Applicant

Net family assets do not include assets held pursuant to a power of attorney because one party is not competent to manage the assets, or assets held in a joint account solely to facilitate access to assets in the event of an emergency.

Example: Alexander Cumbow and his daughter, Emily Bornscheuer, have a bank account with both names on the account. Emily's name is on that account for the convenience of her father in case an emergency arises that would result in Emily handling payments for her father. Emily has not contributed to this asset, does not receive interest income from it, nor does she pay taxes on the interest earned. Therefore, Emily does not own this account. If Emily applies for assisted housing, the owner should not count this account as her asset. This asset belongs to Alexander and would be counted entirely as the father's asset should he apply for assisted housing.

7. Assets that are not accessible to the applicant and provide no income to the applicant. Nonrevocable trusts are not covered under this paragraph. See information on nonrevocable trusts in paragraph 5-7 G.1.

Example

A battered spouse owns a house with her husband. Because of the domestic situation, she receives no income from the asset and cannot convert the asset to cash.

This applies to any procedure that is directed at improving the patient's appearance and does not meaningfully promote the proper function of the body or prevent or treat illness or disease. Procedures such as face-lifts, hair transplants, hair removal (electrolysis), and liposuction generally are not deductible. However, if medical complications, e.g., infections, etc., occur as a result of the procedure that requires medical treatment, the medical treatment expenses would be treated as a medical expense deduction. Amounts paid for cosmetic surgery may be deducted if necessary to improve a deformity arising from, or directly related to, a congenital abnormality, a personal injury resulting from an accident or trauma, or a disfiguring disease.
Health club dues	Do not include in medical expenses the cost of membership in any club organized for business, pleasure, recreation, or other social purpose, such as health club dues, YMCA dues, or amounts paid for steam baths for general health or to relieve physical or mental discomfort not related to a particular medical condition.

Otherwise, these items are taken to maintain ordinary good health, and are not for medical care.

Medical Expenses	May Not Include
Personal use items	Do not include in medical expenses an item ordinarily used for personal, living, or family purposes unless it is used primarily to prevent or alleviate a physical or mental defect or illness.
